F. Scott Fitzgerald: The Roaring Twenties and Beyond

One of the most notable literary figures associated with Pasadena is F. Scott Fitzgerald. The famed author of The Great Gatsby spent several years living in the city during the 1920s and 1930s, a period that coincided with the Roaring Twenties and the Great Depression. Fitzgerald's experiences in Pasadena heavily influenced his writing, particularly his depiction of the Jazz Age and its opulent excesses.

Armistead Maupin: Tales of the City and Beyond

Another prominent literary figure with strong ties to Pasadena is Armistead Maupin. The author of the beloved Tales of the City series lived in Pasadena for many years and drew inspiration from the city's unique social and cultural landscape. Maupin's writing offers a poignant and insightful exploration of urban life, LGBTQ+ experiences, and the search for belonging.
