The heart of the fragrance is a symphony of floral accords, where the romanticism of roses intertwines with the powdery sweetness of iris and the exotic allure of ylang-ylang. These intoxicating notes evoke the passion and longing that define the iconic love story of Romeo and Juliet.

As the fragrance lingers, a warm and sensual base emerges. Ambery notes lend a touch of depth and warmth, while vanilla and musk add a soft and velvety finish. The lasting impression of OPD 7021 Bellini Capuleti Montecchi is one of luxurious elegance and lingering enchantment.

The Veronese Connection

OPD 7021 Bellini Capuleti Montecchi is deeply rooted in the history and culture of Verona. The fragrance takes its name from the Bellini cocktail, a refreshing summer drink made with peach purée and Prosecco, which originated in Harry's Bar in Venice and is named after the famous Venetian painter, Giovanni Bellini. The Capuleti and Montecchi families, whose rivalry forms the basis of Romeo and Juliet, are also synonymous with Verona.

The vibrant colors of the fragrance's packaging evoke the hues of Verona's stunning architecture and the warm glow of the Italian sun. The bottle's design is reminiscent of the iconic balconies that play a pivotal role in the love story, symbolizing the forbidden romance between Romeo and Juliet.

A Fragrance for the Modern Romantic

OPD 7021 Bellini Capuleti Montecchi is more than just a fragrance; it is a wearable piece of art that captures the essence of romance and the magic of Verona. It is a scent for the modern romantic, who appreciates the beauty of history and the allure of the unknown.
